

Reporting What God Is Doing

Acts 14:27 NIV

It is impossible to describe the tidal wave of blessing that we feel as this ministry has begun the 20th year of serving mission laboratories. We are so grateful for each of these uniquely gifted individuals who have come here in response to God's direction, raising support or serving as volunteers, to cover the many facets of ministry necessary to effectively address the requests we receive for assistance.

The people pictured here work week after week to correspond with mission personnel to define their needs;

James

procure equipment and supplies; prepare, repair, pack, coordinate and ship orders to the field; handle the bookkeeping and accounting to keep everything straight; maintain our facility; provide on-site installation and training to mission medical staff; provide phone, email and Skype support to those we serve; process donations and payments; research and develop new technology suited for mission use...and many other related necessary activities such as maintaining a steady supply of treats and chocolate! We are deeply thankful to God for His faithfulness and tender care, both of which are especially real to us after recent serious health struggles for several in our group.

Peggy

John

We trust you will praise God with us as you read the Notes From The Field below. These expressions of thanks extend also to you who so faithfully help to make it possible, by your prayers, time and financial gifts, for all of us to enjoy the privilege of doing the work of ministry here – in this time – in this place – together.

Cindy

Em

Lorna

We are entering a season of new challenges associated with changes in some of the key analyzers available to us for vital testing in mission labs. Please pray for wisdom as we continue with the evaluation phase and begin installations and training for new equipment at many of the missions we serve. These will be difficult changes for many of the mission lab techs and we are committed to supporting them in every way that we are able. The responsibility weighs heavy on us as they are looking to us for guidance of how to proceed. Please also pray for safety for the movement of staff and equipment around the world in these changing times.

Maury

Jim

Dave

Dale

Patty

We are so thankful to God for His protection, provision, promise of wisdom, presence as we walk the path ahead and we are constantly reminded that, though we cannot see around the bends, He knows the entire road!

Grateful for the privilege of serving in Jesus' name,

Ed and Carol Bas

John

Jim

Terry

Ed

Carol

~ Notes From The Field ~

From Angola after receiving much-needed supplies

Most of all I'm so thankful to God for once again providing us with the means to do what we are called to do, which is to provide "Health and Hope through Christ".

From Nigeria after setup of a new lab

The new lab is phenomenal!! They can now do over 70 tests, before there were only around 20. Mark was able to get blood work done that previously we had to travel to Ilorin or out of the county for...wow awesome God!

From a missionary physician serving in Papua New Guinea

We greatly appreciate your help. We couldn't function here without you.

From a physician serving in a undisclosed location

Today I was able to get the _____. PRAISE GOD! Actually, as I was sitting in the office of the head of customs I was sharing with him some of what I do in country and showing him some pictures, and he was quite touched...so much that when it came time to pay the formalities of the customs he said that he wanted to pay the formalities himself because he wanted to do his part in my work of aiding the population. God is good! Thank you for all that you do in aiding this working.

From a lab tech at a very busy hospital in Liberia

Many thanks to all of you for your help in getting our ... analyzer working. We ran tests on it now for a few days with no problem! God bless you all.

From a physician serving with a short-term outreach team in Honduras

Thank you for this lovely and amazing and much needed service you provide for the clinic!